12-1 Vote Ends Delay That Had Jeopardized Funds, Caused Hazards

The Granite City council, not without last-minute difficulties, placed on final passage and approved Thursday night an ordinance to vacate August street.

The vote was 12 to 1. Three aldermen who had opposed the property exchange proposal, Walter Nann, Steve Basarich and Earl Jarrett, were absent.

In rapid succession, the council then approved by the same vote a declaration of vacation by the city, and the form of an agreement to be signed by Granite City Steel Co.

Lone dissenting vote on the ordinance to vacate and the other two documents was cast by Alderman Richard Fry of the Sixth Ward. Fry, with Nann and Basarich, both of the Fifth Ward, and Jarrett of the Seventh Ward were opponents of the plan and helped block approval until Thursday night.

Tax Collection Lag May Cost City $35,000

A critical lag in payment of tax bills by Granite City taxpayers during the current collection period may result in a loss of approximately $35,000 in tax commissions for the city, City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich reported today.

Rich said total collections at his office as of Friday afternoon totaled $2,714,640 in both real estate and personal property taxes.

Last year, during the same period of collection days, payments amounted to $6,524,151. He pointed out, however, that last year's collections included large industrial and commercial tax payments which still will be received before the treasurer's office shuts off local collections at 5 p.m. Friday.

This year's collections to date represents only 36% of the total tax charge of $7,538,227 extended against Granite City taxpayers for the 1967 tax year, Rich said.

Needed Due to Size Of Present Vehicles, Rescue Truck, Hose

Construction of an addition to the Venice fire station at city hall to accommodate the city's new $31,000 pumper engine was authorized by the Venice city council Friday night.

The new plan will replace earlier arrangements to remodel the front of the present fire house to permit housing the new pumper in that part of the fire hall.

Council members authorized City Engineer Jack Tolliver to proceed immediately with the construction work after Mayor John E. Lee said the job might not be large enough to justify bids. Estimated cost was a placed at $8000.

Tolliver explained plans call for an 18 x 42-foot addition on the north side of the firehouse, which is attached to the city hall. This would provide ample room at the back of the addition for all the fire department's hose racks, he said.

By housing the largest pumper in the new addition, the fire department then can house its rescue truck in the main section of the fire hall, along with the city's other 750-gallon pumper fire engine.

Flying Glass Cuts Many at Beach Resort

None of the nine persons treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for tornado injuries Sunday reside in the Quad-Cities.

Three were admitted to the local hospital, two patients were transferred to St. Louis hospitals and four youngsters were released following emergency treatment.

Admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital were: Homer R. Gray, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Gray, South Roxana, lacerations from flying glass to the left knee and right leg.

Cheryl Alexander, 11, granddaughter of Mrs. Stella Macari, Collinsville, injured right ankle and a laceration from glass on the right leg.

Edmond Cadell, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charleston Cadell, East St. Louis, injuries to the foot and toes to both heels.

Transferred to Missouri Baptist Hospital, St. Louis, was Mrs. Joyce Frechmann, 38, Maplewood, Mo., contusions to the head and shoulders and left knee abrasions suffered when a table overturned on top of her.

Lowell Crocker Jr., 18, Overland, Mo., was transferred to the Missouri-Pacific Hospital, St. Louis, with lacerations to both legs. He underwent surgery for leg injuries and initially was in serious condition.

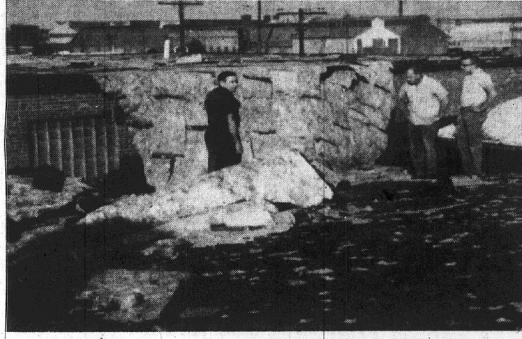

Those released following treatment included: Gerald Joyce, 15, son of Mrs. Mary Joyce, Maplewood, left shoulder bruised; Diane DeClue, eight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeClue, St. Louis, who was struck in the eye by an unknown object.

Debbie Edwards, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards, Collinsville, three-inch laceration on the right leg and Annelle Lawler, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lawler, Richmond Heights, Mo., skull x-rays after being struck on the head by an object.

Intensity of rainfall that accompanied the storm varied.

WAREHOUSE ROOF DAMAGE is inspected at the Tri-City Grocery Co., 16th and State streets, by employees of the firm. Insulation and tar-like surface material were blown loose, exposing the metal roof deck.

Storm Strikes Without Warning Sunday Afternoon

A rainbow formed over Mitchell shortly after 6 p.m. Sunday, but less than two hours earlier a dense rainstorm and tornado winds had struck, injuring dozens of persons and inflicting extensive damage.

Striking without official warning at about 4:15 p.m. the storm blackened the sky, poured rain throughout the Quad-Cities, damaged roofs and power lines, broke windows and hurled numerous loose objects about, causing injuries and property loss.

Trees and tree limbs were blown down, shingles were torn and traffic lights were darkened at all intersections along the East and West Chain of Rocks road, creating a monumental traffic jam. Spectators were attracted to the area damaged by the winds.

Beach Storm Crowded

When the storm began to develop at the Fun 'n Sun beach resort, where several thousand persons had gathered on a hot afternoon to swim in the lake and view a parachute jump, lifeguards succeeded in getting nearly everyone out of the water before the storm became intense.

About 500 to 800 crowded into a recreation building which houses a snack bar, with an even larger number remaining on the beach beneath umbrellas intended to shade them from the sun. Some reached their cars, but even there safety was not assured; many broken auto windows were reported.

With visibility at a minimum, shingles and tables were blown about, rain turned the sand into large puddles and the fury of the storm was such that large numbers desperately sought somewhere to flee but were uncertain over which direction to run.

The suction of the tornado shattered windows in the recreation building, showering dozens of people with pieces of glass.

Operators of the resort were able to contact the sheriff's office before telephone and other power lines went dead.

A lifeguard's boat was carried by the wind 100 feet and across Interstate 270.

Tri-City Grocery Damage

Damage to the roof of Tri-City Grocery and to merchandise inside the warehouse will run into "hundreds of thousands of dollars," Samuel Pershall Jr., president said today.

Damage to merchandise was caused by water running inside the warehouse through the damaged roof, on which the wind peeled back the roofing and insulation.

Much of the damage was to stocks of cereals and paper goods.

Trailer Firm Hit

At the 4-Point Trailer Sales, 849 West Chain of Rocks road, virtually every trailer and camper unit was destroyed or blown away.

Andrew Wood, sales manager, said damage is estimated in excess of $50,000.

Wood said he was closing up one of the larger camper units when the wind hit suddenly.

"I jumped inside and locked the door," he said, "and the wind just picked the whole unit off the ground into the air, and then set it down again—it did this a number of times and I just rode it out."

Two customers who were waiting in the company office, a portable wood and aluminum unit, lay on the floor as the wind kept hitting the building to a 45-degree angle and then dropping it back. No one was injured.

One camper unit weighing more than 800 pounds was blown from the trailer grounds to the middle of Old Route 66.

A building containing camping accessories was blown a quarter of a mile away to Interstate 270 and accessories were scattered throughout the area.

Several camper units weighing as much as 2000 pounds were lifted into the air and turned over onto their tops, Wood said.

"It was strong enough, three cups of coffee sitting on a table in the Miss Stanfill was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for right knee, right ankle and left shoulder contusions, while her passenger, Alice Whaley, 14, of 2804 Cleveland blvd., suffered a forehead laceration.

Miss Studebaker also received emergency care at the hospital. Her car came to a halt between a curb and sidewalk north of the intersection after being struck.

Miss Stanfill was charged by police with failing to yield the right-of-way.

One injury resulted from a three-car crash at Nameoki road and Clark avenue at noon Friday. George Todd, 15, of 2118 Hamilton drive was hurt slightly while a passenger in the auto of Lynn Todd of the same address; their southbound car was damaged about the front.

Karen Wilson, 28, of 3308 Kirkpatrick Homes was northbound and started a left turn across the center of the road to a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way.

The Todd car hit the right of the Wilson auto, which also was damaged in the left rear in being knocked against the auto of Dorothy Hanne, 3029 Marney avenue; the latter motorist was eastbound in a shopping center driveway and had halted for traffic.

Three Persons Injured

Three persons were injured when an auto driven by Barbara T. Elmore, 31, skidded on wet pavement into a car driven by Edward Bucher, Collinsville, at 6:40 p.m. Thursday at 18th and Benton streets. Complaining of pains were Mrs. Elmore and two Elmore children, Kathryn, four, and Richard Jr., six.

This unit, with some modifications of existing staff and the addition of other staff members into the unit, is to facilitate development, organization and implementation here of statewide training goals.

It will provide for minimal continuing relationships with colleges and universities through a psychology internship program. The committee is also proposing a Mental Health Worker series for psychiatric aids, activity program aides, child care aides and possibly other classifications.

Instructors will include a welfare executive, nursing administrator, registered nurse, activity therapist, psychologist, social worker, mental health program worker and clerk.

Staff members from Zone VII, Alton State Hospital and the Division of Professional Services will make up this committee and plan the training. Representatives forming the committee are Assistant Supt. Dr. Endre Komlos, and Dr. McConahey of Alton State; Marjorie Fields, mental health services coordinator of the St. Clair-Monroe counties sub-zone; and Ira Cravens, chief of veteran's service, Division of Veterans' Services. The first meeting will be held Sept. 12 in Alton.

Outside Independent Audit Report

County Urged to Update Fund Investments

By MARION BARTOSIAK

Investment of all excess funds of Madison county offices should be made at the highest rate of interest available, as provided by law, according to recommendations made in an outside independent audit by R. C. Scheffel & Co. of Alton, certified public accountants.

In the report, which covered an 11-month period ending last Nov. 30, the firm said that substantial income again was received from the investment of various funds.

But there were still substantial excess funds on hand at various times during the year which could have been invested if the county officials had a legal right to do so, it was noted.

Funds with significant uninvested cash balances at Nov. 30, 1967, included several fees, the county tax collector's account and the county revenue funds. Other funds contained smaller uninvested balances.

Seek Legal Opinion

The auditors recommended that the county board obtain from the state's attorney—an opinion as to which funds can be invested and the type of investment that may be made, and that a policy of investing all eligible excess funds be adopted.

Investments of protested tax funds, which on Nov. 30 amounted to $1,402,587, should be studied to determine if it is possible to obtain a yield higher than the 2½% presently earned, the auditors said.

The accounting firm listed 20 recommendations, and a company representative is to be available at the September meeting of the county board supervisors to discuss details of the audit.

Centralize Accounting

Other recommendations included: A study of the possibility of centralizing all the accounting functions of the various offices of the county to provide greater economy.

An inventory of all fixed assets, updated each year, with a fixed asset fund established. Detailed itemization of expenditures for conventions or meetings before payment.

The accountants said the method of determining travel reimbursements in all offices should be studied, with consideration given to standardized, detailed reports, documented where practical and coupled with a maximum allowance in each instance.

Any reimbursement furnished to a person who receives "flat-rate" travel allowances should be reported on information returns to the Internal Revenue Service, the audit said.

Business Procedures

In some areas the auditors found that it was difficult to ascertain that goods and services paid for by the county were actually received.

Requisition, purchasing and payment procedures should be strengthened so that when the committees and board approve payment of bills, they can be reasonably assured that the merchandise or services have actually been received or performed for the county, it was asserted.

Since protested tax funds contain protests dating back to 1946, legal attention should be directed to the protests, and timely proper court action should be taken concerning each tax protest, it was noted.

A study should be made of eventual use of automated bookkeeping equipment in the treasurer's office because of the constant increase in the volume of transactions in connection with the collection of taxes, and with the goal of an earlier final tax payment date, now about March 1 of the year following tax collections. Such a study should consider the possibility of the county collector eventually collecting all the taxes, county officials were told.

Limit Deposit

Illinois statute that deposits of the treasurer in any one depository are limited to 75% of the capital stock and surplus of that bank, unless excess deposits are deposited with the treasurer covering any excess deposits over the limitation.

The auditors noted at least one case in which the statutory limit had been substantially exceeded with no securities deposited with the treasurer.

The auditors recommended that the records of the various county offices and funds have been substantially improved since 1964, and that the officials responsible for the improvement should be complimented.

Madison Teachers To Meet Tonight On Salary Issue

Members of Madison Federation of Teachers Local 763 are scheduled to meet tonight to consider a contract stalemate with the Madison board of education.

Classes for the 1968-69 year are scheduled to start next Monday, but there has been no change in a reported plan that teachers will remain off the job.

The threat was made last week by Rex Carr of East St. Louis, the teachers' lawyer, who told board members that if they do not meet an $833 monthly starting salary, net of $33.33 per month (yearly total divided by nine), the district will have no teachers.

The board last week mailed contracts to individual teachers with salary terms granting an increase of $33.33 to $77.78 per month. So far, none have been returned.

The board is to meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the board office to hold a public hearing on a tentative budget of $2,065,789, adopt a final budget for the current fiscal year and conduct other business.

An agreement with the teachers' local is not listed on the agenda. The tentative budget, $166,678 higher than that of last year, includes increases of $71,500 for salaries for 133 teachers in the system.

Plat for 33 New Homes Approved

The Granite City Plan Commission approved the final plat for the second addition to Wilson Park Estates at the commission's regular meeting Thursday afternoon.

The new section, containing 33 residential lots zoned for single-family dwellings, lies north of Indiana and Michigan avenues.

Norman Reinhardt of the Reinhardt Agency, developers of the Wilson Parks Estates and Addition, said Friday that construction of three-bedroom frame homes in the medium-price range will start at an early date in the new addition.

"We have been working steadily for months to find the right type of design within the right price range to make these homes available to anyone who has a job," the developer said. He added that the dwellings probably will include one-and-a-half baths.

E. G. Schmitt, Plan Commission vice-chairman, who presided at Thursday's meeting, said the commissioners heard a brief report on the master city plan revision, presented by Henry Gabriel, and that the plan will be studied by the commission.

Area offices of the magistrate division do not use uniform accounting procedures and their financial records are not of uniformly high quality; the auditors recommended that uniform accounting procedures be set up for all area offices, with more frequent supervisory examinations.

Use of a general ledger was recommended for the sheriff's office, in addition to a comprehensive study of all travel reimbursement policies, a breakdown of auto expenses by car, and revision of appropriations to correspond with actual expenditures so that they will be realistic and meaningful.

The auditors summarized that the records of the various county offices and funds have been substantially improved since 1964, and that the officials responsible for the improvement should be complimented.

EOC May Sponsor Lay Leadership Course Here

Mrs. Mary Rhotes a family and child services specialist with the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, discussed the feasibility of training lay leaders for EOC sponsored programs at a meeting of the Kirkpatrick Homes Improvement Association Friday afternoon.

The guest speaker, introduced by Mrs. Betty Liddell, newly elected president, noted that she received her training through a similar type of program. She reported the county anti-poverty organization hopes shortly to initiate a lay leader instruction program in this area.

Mrs. Rhotes said the course involves comprehensive training of non-professional personnel who, in turn, interest and help train other lay people.

The association president announced that another agency of local is scheduled to address the improvement group at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Kirkpatrick Homes recreation hall. She said the session will be open to the general public.

County Road Accident
Rear end damage to the car of Walter S. Polson, Cahokia, and damage to the front of a car driven by Herman E. Son, St. Louis, resulted from a traffic accident on County road near the south gate of the Army Depot at 4:45 p.m. Thursday. Venice police reported Polson was headed south and stopped for traffic, his auto was struck from the rear by Son's car.

Man in Mishap Charged
An auto driven by Andrew S. Balsai, 1618 Maple street, who had observed a stop sign, entered the intersection at West 22nd street and Jefferson avenue and was struck in the right side by another car driven by Bobby J. Jerrell, 2721 West 22nd street, at 4:15 p.m. Sunday. Balsai was charged with a right-of-way violation with a control present.

SIU Board Okays Education Video Station at SIU-SW

Requests for a master's degree program in computer science at the Carbondale campus and a UHF television station at the Southwest campus were approved Friday by the Southern Illinois University board of trustees, meeting at Carbondale. They will be forwarded to the appropriate state and federal agencies.

The graduate studies in computer science would be sponsored by the Schools of Business and Technology and the mathematics department of the College of Liberal Arts and sciences.

The program is intended to train computer scientists rather than technicians. The recommendation, from the Graduate Council, now will go to the Illinois State Board of Higher Education.

The request for the television station makes application to the Federal Communications Commission for a license to construct a station at or near SIU-SW, which would use ultra high frequency channel 18.

The university now operates WSTU-TV, Channel 8, with a transmitter near Tamaroa, and will go on the air Aug. 19 with WUSI-TV, Channel 16, near Olney.

Educational television broadcasts from the university are widely used by grade and high schools in the Carbondale area.

DIITY BAGS IN VIETNAM. American troops at Nashua Fire Support Base, South Vietnam, gather outside their bunker to use articles they received in their American Red Cross gift bags. This year, the Red Cross "Operation Shop Early '68" will provide more than 600,000 individual Christmas ditty bags for servicemen and women in Vietnam. Clubs and individuals willing to make and fill the bags are being sought.

Red Cross Christmas Project

Volunteers Needed To Sew Ditty Bags for GIs

Although Christmas is still some time away, the Red Cross chapters in the Midwest, including the Tri-City chapter, are "shopping" early for servicemen overseas.

Currently, the local Red Cross chapter is seeking individuals, church groups, civic and veterans' organizations and social clubs willing to participate in "Operation Shop Early," the annual program which provides thousands of "little green ditty bags" for servicemen in Vietnam.

Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, the local Red Cross executive, today announced that the Tri-City chapter will be making ditty bag shipments to Vietnam from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, to ensure that all service personnel receive them by Christmas.

"We urgently need individuals or groups to sew and fill the small fabric bags with the soldiers can attach to their belts," Mrs. Overbeck said. She noted that last year, letters were mailed to local groups asking their cooperation in the project.

Omit Letters
Explanation that postage costs ran high for the project, the director commented, "We only received 104 ditty bags, so we are hoping those willing to help us this year will respond to our appeal through newspaper publicity."

Mrs. Overbeck said the National Red Cross expects to furnish more than 600,000 ditty bags to servicemen and women in Vietnam this Christmas.

"We hope to mail at least 500 bags from our chapter by the Oct. 15 deadline, but we will need tremendous cooperation from more people than last year to fulfill this goal," she stressed.

Thousands of servicemen last year sent letters home thanking people for the small but valuable commodities which filled the bags—ballpoint pens, writing paper, combs, cigaret cases, address books, soap cases, toothbrushes, nail clippers, pocket games, plastic matchbook holders, shoe polish, pocketbooks and small tins of nuts or candies.

Grateful Replies
In many letters, servicemen

noted that while they were away from their families and homes during Christmas, the ditty bags proved especially welcome presents.

Mrs. Overbeck said if organizations felt they could make the ditty bags but are unable to fill them, this could be arranged through the chapter. Also, she added, if it is not possible to make the bags by the deadline date, they can still be used.

"The servicemen are happy to receive these bags at any time, since they carry them when they swim, are hospitalized or are evacuated to hold onto their personal belongings and grooming items," Mrs. Overbeck explained.

Strong denim or similar smooth-textured heavy cotton fabric in Christmas red or green should be used to make the bags, which have a drawstring top.

Full instructions on how to sew the gift bags may be obtained through contacting the Tri-City Red Cross office at 1411 Twenty-first street, or 452-7184.

Groups willing to participate in "Operation Shop Early" are asked to register by calling the chapter office at the above number.

State Will Advance Funds To Aid Underpass Project

Negotiations with state highway division officials will result in advances to the city of Venice of state funds totaling $154,000 to help meet the city's first costs in building its share of the Broadway underpass, Mayor John E. Lee told the city council in a regular session Friday night.

The announcement followed a conference in Springfield Thursday with Melvin Larsen, Illinois highway engineer of local roads and streets, and other highway engineers.

Representing the city at the conference were Mayor Lee, City Clerk William "Mike" Ebersold, and Edward Juneau and George Shannahan of Shepard, Morgan & Schwaab, city consulting engineers.

$1 Million Structure
The mayor explained that the state agreed to reimburse the city of Venice for the value of all work performed by the three participating railroads when such costs exceed 10% of the cost of the underpass structure. The railroads, New York Central, Gulf, Mobile & Ohio and Norfolk & Western, are to pay 1/3 of the cost of the structure, or about $180,000.

Larsen told Mayor Lee the money will be paid as railroad bills are received by the highway division and that the reimbursement will amount to about $69,480.

In addition, Mayor Lee said, the state agreed to pay to the city of Venice an advance of $84,228 as soon as the city awards a contract for the city's share of the work, which will include paving of relocated Broadway and Main street.

The state payment will be an advance for engineering and construction work on ramp connections tying in the paved streets with the underpass and with Federal Aid Route 151, through Venice.

Fuel Tax Allocation
The mayor said also that the city has been given highway department approval of a plan to use approximately $200,000 in motor fuel tax funds spread over a five-year period, since the paving work and other construction in the underpass project will involve state designated highways.

He said MFT payments are budgeted only in two-year schedules, but that the city can meet payments out of its $600,000 underpass escrow fund. It then will repay the escrow fund with MFT money received in subsequent budgeting through 1973.

Will Save $200,000
This plan, he said, will allow Venice to save at least $200,000 of its escrow fund, which has been put aside during the past few years out of city income from operation of McKinley Bridge.

That money, he added, may provide enough savings to carry out three major projects the city has been considering for many years—remodeling of the city hall, construction of a new fire house and construction of a recreation center. State highway officials at Springfield told the Press-Record last week that a contract for the underpass project has been approved, but has not yet been awarded pending signing of work agreements by the railroads.

Work on the underpass, a project whose beginning dates back five years, is expected to get under way this fall.

Parked Car Damaged

Lace encircled the entire yoke and appliques of lace accented the front and back of the gown. A sheer organza chapel train flowed gracefully from the back yoke.

Clusters of white daisies secured the bride's bouffant veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade of stephanotis, orchids and lily.

The maid of honor, Miss Tolene Prewett, a sister of the bride, chose a gown of avocado karate and lime green Venice lace. The Empire bodice and short sleeves were covered with the lace and a free flowing panel trimmed with lace fell from the neckline in the back.

She held a Flemish bouquet of red, white and pink sweet-heart roses combined with pink and white Elegance carnations, stephanotis and daisies.

The bridesmaids' dresses were identical in design to those of the honor maid with the exception of the color which was pink with mauve lace. Their bouquets were the same as the other attendant and all of the girls carried the same flowers. Puff veils matched the gowns. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Ronald Dunbar, a sister of the bride, Miss Virginia Rydberg and Mrs. Arthur Heatherly.

A little flower girl, Lisa Dunbar, niece of the bride, was dressed like the maid of honor. Her flowers were a miniature bridal bouquet.

Gary Moore was best man and John Piese, Albert Delaoye, Jerry Wallace, James Goodman and Richard Marcus made up the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother selected a

MRS. RALPH L. BLANKENSHIP, whose wedding took place Saturday evening at St. John's United Church of Christ. The former Miss Sharon Lee Reinhardt, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reinhardt, 2805 Iowa street.

office went through the storm "without a scratch."

Activity by State Police State police sent four troopers to Fun 'n Sun to survey damage and assist with the injured.

The owners advised that at 4:05 p.m., a black cloud was seen from the southwest. They ordered 1500 to 2000 patrons to clear the water. The cloud touched down at 4:15 p.m., the clock there showed.

The wind broke a plate glass window, blew the roof off a storage shed, damaged several beach chairs and benches and destroyed a ticket building at the entrance.

A 12x72-foot house trailer which was in transit was completely demolished on Chain of Rocks road about 100 yards west of Route Three. Papers inside indicated it was being delivered to a Tech. Sgt. John Boley.

Steve Druatzis, 13, Rural Route Two, was riding his bicycle and took shelter behind the trailer, which apparently had stopped when the windstorm hit, he suffered cuts on his legs. He refused treatment.

Roof and glass damage was reported at Poor Boy John's store, the Land of Lincoln Motel, Chain of Rocks Motel, Four-Point Sales & Rental, carpenters district council building and Twin Oaks restaurant and motel, and trees were down at the Windy Meadows and Sissy Dale subdivisions.

Troopers assisted with numerous accidents on Interstate 270, where traffic was "blown off the road," but accident reports have not been prepared.

Many Signs Blown Away

Advertising signs caught up by the windstorm littered the northern embankments of Interstate 270 for thousands of feet between Route 235 and Highway Three.

Many road signs also were tumbled about on the Chain of Rocks road, where utility poles also were blown down.

There was much storm damage at the Chain of Rocks and Land of Lincoln motels. At the latter establishment, a picnic table was turned upside down and a swing set was carried into a neighboring yard.

Initial Mitchell Report

First home hit by the storm at Mitchell is thought to have been the residence of Eugene Jones, Rural Route One, in the Rae-Jean subdivision.

The roof, shingles and a television aerial were damaged, a tree was uprooted and a fishing boat was hurled into an adjoining yard.

Parking Lot Mishap

An auto driven by Barbara Horsley, 2710 Center street, hit the left side of the parked car of Charles Cable, 39 Devon Hill lane, at 11:20 a.m. Saturday on the Bellemeade shopping center parking lot.

street until cleared by the street department. Another car was reported down in the 2100 block of Glen avenue.

A car driven by Maxie Dacus, Press-Record credit manager, was damaged on the top when it was struck by a large tree limb snapped off by the high wind as he was driving on Cleveland Blvd. The top of her car was damaged extensively.

Two Warnings Thursday

In contrast to yesterday's sudden storm, there were adequate warnings but no damage here Thursday afternoon from a funnel cloud which formed in St. Louis county and traveled through St. Louis, riding and losing its force as it crossed the Quad-Cities during a rain storm.

Then, Thursday evening, rain and extensive lightning and thunder accompanied a second storm alert which also proved to have a "bark worse than bite."

George's AG Market, 1700 Edwardville road, the roof of its home of Ronald Gryzwacz, a Madison police officer, at 1201 Alton avenue, was blown off and interior damage resulted from hail and wind. The wind also shattered the glass panes of a storm door at the Gryzwacz home.

Damage at Plating Firm

The wind rolled up roofing atop the Finley Plating Co., 1741 State street, but did not cause serious damage.

Part of the roof of this home of Ronald Gryzwacz, a Madison police officer, at 1201 Alton avenue, was blown off and interior damage resulted from hail and wind. The wind also shattered the glass panes of a storm door at the Gryzwacz home.

Damage expected to run into several thousand dollars was caused to the Carpenters District Council hall, 180 West Chain of Rocks road, Mitchell.

The wind whipped the roof off the back half of the building, and drenching rain caused heavy damage to the interior of the building.

A spokesman said no exact damage estimate has been made pending inspection by insurance adjusters.

The rain damaged the tile and flooded the men's tile hall and conference room in the rear section of the building.

Twin Oaks, Wolf Farm

The winds ripped up and snapped off about a dozen large trees in the area along old Routes 66 and 67 at the foot of the Chain of Rocks Bridge and dropped them alongside the Twin Oaks restaurant on Chain of Rocks road and at Robert Wolf Associates, a plastic manufacturing firm on old Route 67.

Six huge trees fell alongside the home of Mrs. Ethel Drenovac, operator of the restaurant, but did not damage the house.

Mrs. Drenovac said an 18-foot boat in her back yard was picked up and tossed around by the wind, and then rolled over and over as the wind buffeted it.

Trees which fell near the Wolf property were propped by the wind.

Union Leaders Again Will Meet With Council Tonight

Union leaders representing city employees in month-long wage negotiations will meet with the Granite City council tonight—this time to respond to a "take it or leave it" offer of a $52 per month wage boost across the board.

Tonight's meeting will be the final council session in the last two weeks in which contract terms have been a major issue, with proposals and counter-proposals by both sides.

Three of those meetings were recessed from the Aug. 5 regularly scheduled council meeting.

The $52-per-month plan was given union leaders Thursday night at the conclusion of a council session in which contract terms were discussed until past midnight without major progress.

The discussion opened with another recess to permit the council to reconvene as a committee of the whole for contract talks.

Following a half-hour closed caucus, the council announced rejection of a counter proposal by union employees calling for a two-year contract with a $65 per month salary boost this year and an additional $47.50 monthly next year.

This total of $112.50 per month increase over the two-year period was proposed by union representatives after they had rejected a "final offer" by city officials in an earlier recessed council meeting last Monday.

That offer consisted of a graduated scale of raises for communications, Alderman Boyd took the floor and said:

Boyd Makes Motion

"This is something we've been talking about a long time, so to expedite matters, I'll get right to the point. I move that an ordinance to vacate August street, as read in the last meeting of the council, be placed on final passage."

Alderman Ford Johnson of the Eighth Ward gave his second to the motion.

Mayor Partney spoke up at this point and told the council:

"It has come to my attention from a gentleman who called me that any alderman who works at Granite City Steel and who votes on this issue will be named in a lawsuit filed against him."

Before any of the aldermen could respond to the mayor's remarks, Fry, the only attending opponent of the August street closing, spoke up.

"There's a problem," he said, "of finding title to August street. We don't know if the city bought it or whether the city even owns it."

"We don't know that we can dedicate this street to anyone if we don't own it. I believe we should conduct a title search before we decide on this."

Ran into Nomen

Third Ward Alderman Roy Poulos jumped up.

"That reminds me," he said, "I ran into Nomen today and he laughed and said to me, 'Do you know we don't even own that street (August street)?'"

Now if Nomen knew this before, and you (Fry) knew this before, how come we're just now hearing about it? And then the mayor comes along with threats of lawsuits for the first time."

Johnson asked the mayor if

Both the city offer rejected by the union last Monday night, and the subsequent counter-proposal by union leaders rejected in last Thursday's council meeting were drafted to cover all city employees.

Negotiations for salary raises and fringe benefits prior to that time were conducted separately for the police and firemen on the one hand and in behalf of other employees on the other.

A union spokesman told the Press-Record that in negotiations Thursday night the city council indicated a willingness to abandon its demand for a more stringent sick leave policy and leave present sick leave terms unchanged if the unions accept the $52 per hour offer covering the wage issue.

Working for Granite City Steel Co. prevented one from serving on the council.

"Of course not," the mayor replied.

Johnson asked the mayor the source of his information concerning the threat of lawsuits. There was no response.

Bartosiak rose and said: "I think I know where most of these rumors are coming from—and that's all they are. Rumors. Where is our city attorney, Dick Allen, tonight? I want some real pertinent questions to ask him. I think he could tell us the source of all this talk."

Johnson asked the mayor if

Moerten said the question of ownership was ridiculous—the said August street has been used by the city and maintained by the city for more than 30 years and consequently was city property under state law.

Fry remarked that he had talked with Allen and that Allen told him he had never seen an ordinance for vacating August street, and had never received a copy of it.

Green Drives 265 Miles

Green announced that he had driven 265 miles Thursday, cutting his vacation short, to return to Granite City for the purpose of voting on the ordinance.

"Let's cut out the politicking and squabbling and vote on this," Green said.

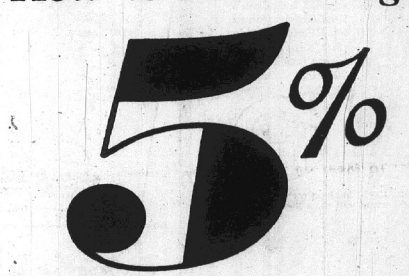

Alderman Boyd at that point called for a question on the motion and a roll call vote—taken, resulting in the 12 to 1 ballot.

Voting in favor of the street closing were Bartosiak, Moerten, Whitmer, Boyd, Poulos, Robertson, Johnson, Dallas, Dawes, Gerald Partney, Green and Paul Kutledge.

Two Youths Arrested Twice In Half-Hour

Two St. Louis youths arrested by Madison police on traffic charges early Saturday morning and released on city bonds were arrested a second time half an hour later.

Police said they arrested Michael Johnson, 19, and Michael Bachman, 19, both of St. Louis, at 2:25 a.m. Saturday at 13th street and Madison avenue. Both were charged with possession of an open bottle of beer in a motor vehicle. Johnson also was charged with speeding.

Johnson posted $50 and Bachman posted $25. They were released shortly before 3 a.m. Half an hour later, police said they saw Bachman coming out of Tony & Joe's liquor store at Third street and Madison avenue with a case of beer. Officers stopped him and told Johnson, who was in the car, to go to police headquarters. Johnson allegedly sped away and headed toward McKinley Bridge but was intercepted by Venice police.

Bachman was charged with purchasing liquor as a minor and Johnson was charged with disobeying a police officer. Both were held in jail pending further bonds.

26% Venice Bridge Revenue Drop; Default on Interest

Net income from operation of McKinley Bridge will run $125,000 short of budget requirements by the end of the current fiscal year on Sept. 30, the Venice city council was told at a regular meeting Friday night.

As a result, Mayor John E. Lee said, the city definitely will default on payment of $110,000 in interest due on bridge "B" bonds Oct. 1.

Mayor Lee told the council that a letter has been prepared and sent to holders of all bridge "A" bonds and bridge "B" bonds explaining the financial situation necessitating the Oct. 1 default on "B" bond interest.

"We believe an explanation of our situation will prevent a rush on the bond market to dispose of 'B' bonds," the mayor said.

All debt requirements on approximately $10 million in outstanding "A" bonds can and will be met, the mayor said. Outstanding "B" bonds total $11 million.

Letter to Bondholders

In the letter, which Mayor Lee read to the council, bondholders were told: "I regret to inform you that the McKinley toll bridge crossing the Mississippi River, owned and operated by the city of Venice, has suffered a financial reversal so serious that it now appears the city will not be able to pay the interest to become due Oct. 1 on 2% subordinated series 'B' bonds." The letter was sent out over the signature of Mayor Lee.

The mayor pointed out that during the six months ended last June 30, the bridge produced net income of $449,594, a decrease of $164,282, or 26.8%.

as compared with the same period ending June 30, 1967.

He said that during the 12-month period ending June 30 this year, the bridge produced net income available for payment of debt service and the accumulation of reserves amounting to $388,964, which is 21% less than for the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1967, amounting to $1,253,520.

June Down 37%

The mayor reported that during the month of June this year, net income amounted to $71,895 which was a drop of $42,724 from income of June 1967. This was a decrease of 37.2%, the mayor said.

"The ultimate extent of these unsatisfactory trends is not known at this time," Mayor Lee told the bondholders in his letter. "However, it appears certain at this time that net income for the six months ending Sept. 30 will fall short of budget requirements by some $125,000.

Interest on outstanding "B" bonds costs the bridge administration $220,000 per year, payable in installments of $110,000 each April 1 and Oct. 1.

The city was short of meeting the April 1 interest payment by about $37,000 but was able to meet the payment by readjustment of the bridge budget for the March and April months.

Tolls increased. An increase in bridge tolls established in an ordinance adopted by the council Aug. 2 is expected to produce an additional $166,000 per year, the mayor pointed out.

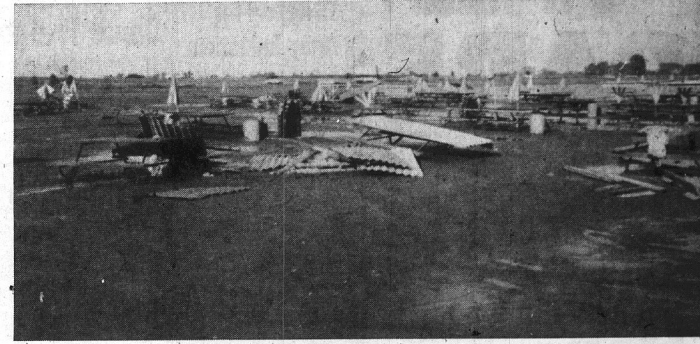

"It is to be hoped that the Oct. 1 default . . . will be short lived and that payments can be resumed promptly," the mayor said.

The bridge financial dilemma results from sharp drops in

Rosemary Pithers, Glen Newman Exchange Vows

Miss Rosemary Elizabeth Pithers and Glen Doyle Newman exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening during ceremonies at Mount Zion General Baptist Church, with Rev. David Everly, pastor of Christ Memorial Baptist Church, Coon Valley, Mo., officiating.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Richard Pithers, 2817 Dodwood drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon D. Newman, 7280 Normandy place, Normandy, Mo.

A double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock was performed before an altar adorned with bouquets of white and yellow pom poms and gladioli, with arched candelabras holding lighted tapers on each side.

Miss Linda Newman, soloist, was accompanied at the organ by Miss Beverly Newman, both cousins of the groom, as she sang, "One Hand One Heart," "Whither Thou Goest" and "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of pure white shantung. Featuring a delicately scalloped neckline, the Empire bodice was of Chantilly lace, as were the full length bell sleeves. The A-line skirt was enhanced with appliques of lace etched with pearls and iridescent sequins.

A detachable full-length train was secured at the back of the Empire waistline and fell into the wide sweep trimmed with similar lace motifs.

The full-length cathedral veil of imported silk illusion was bordered with appliques of lace and was secured with a jeweled Princess crown.

She carried a cascade bouquet of miniature white carnations.

tions, ivy and a white orchid centered in the bouquet.

Miss Terri Rogers, a roommate of the bride at Jewish Hospital, was maid of honor and Miss Monica Pithers, sister of the bride, and Miss Renee Moehle, another classmate of the bride, served as bridesmaids.

The honor attendant was attired in a full-length gown of orange chiffon over taffeta designed with a scoop neckline, Empire waistline, elbow-length bell-shaped sleeves and A-line skirts. An orange crepe bow secured her tiered circular nose-up veil.

Gowns designed to match that of the honor attendant, only in a gold shade, were worn by the bridesmaids. Their headpieces were similar and in gold. Each carried a crescent bouquet of bronze and yellow pom poms and daisies.

Judy Smith was the flower girl and her frock in gold chiffon was an exact style of the maid of honor. She carried a white basket of rose petals.

Brian Pithers, a brother of the bride, was ring bearer. Attending the groom as best man was David Dawdy, with Gary Cooper and G. L. Baker as groomsmen. Seating the guests were John Pithers, the bride's brother, and Larry Clark.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Pithers, selected a street-length sheath dress of egg shell silk crepe with a matching lace coat. Her accessories were orange and she wore an apricot carnation corsage trimmed in off-white.

Mrs. Newman, mother of the groom, chose a street-length, one-piece sheath dress in aqua blue linen and a lace bodice in matching shade. She wore matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations trimmed with an aqua blue bow.

A reception for the wedding guests was held in the church Fellowship Hall immediately following the ceremony, with Miss Louise Montgomery attending the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Newman were hosts at a rehearsal dinner given on Friday evening at the Flaming Pit in Jennings, Mo., for members of the wedding party.

After a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the newlyweds will make their home in Ferguson, Mo.

The former Miss Pithers graduated from Granite City high school and is a senior student at the Jewish Hospital School of Nursing in St. Louis.

Mr. Newman, a senior at the St. Louis College of Pharmacy, is employed at Niemeier Pharmacy in Normandy, Mo.

Defer SIU Budget; Student Limit, Housing Topics

Action on the SIU-1968 - 69 budget was postponed Friday in Carbondale to permit further study by trustees and conferences with the chancellors.

Arthur C. Becker, retired president of the Edwardsville National Bank & Trust Co., was recommended by the board to receive an SIU-SW distinguished service award.

A clarifying amendment was approved designating initial family housing as for students and, on a temporary basis only, for staff members.

The board passed a resolution saying that SIU will conform with a state ruling that four-year colleges and universities admit only students in the upper 50% of their high school graduating classes. The university later is to spell out its procedures, under specified circumstances, for admitting students in the lower half of their high school classes.

In response to a request to the State Board of Higher Education, SIU will be allowed to admit lower-half students during the winter, spring and summer quarters, when enrollment is not at its peak. The number is not to exceed 10% of the university's total enrollment, and the students must have a rating on a standardized, state-administered examination comparable to those in the upper half of their graduating classes.

President Delye W. Morris said that such limitations might force most in the lower half to attend junior colleges, and that such a trend could lower the status of junior colleges.

He said he has no proof that lower-half students are less intelligent than those in the upper half. Low grades could be the result of emotional problems or lack of motivation, he added.

Madisonian Arrested Following Gun Battle

Joseph Crocker, 34, a painter, of 1112 Reynolds street, Madison, was arrested by St. Louis police at 2:30 a.m. Saturday for allegedly taking part in a gun battle with Patrolmen Edmund J. Winkelmann and Donald Baker of the Central district. Ten shots were fired but no one was hit.

Winkelmann had been told at Ninth street and Delmar Blvd. that a man crossing Delmar had a revolver. The officer left his car and saw the butt of a revolver protruding from a hip pocket of Crocker. It was alleged.

Crocker ran east to an alley beside the Bon-Del Hotel in the 800 block of Delmar, with Winkelmann in close pursuit and firing four shots.

Patrolman Baker, driving along Tenth street, heard the shots and halted his patrol car to assist. He circled the hotel on foot and came face-to-face with the man at a corner of the building.

Crocker is said to have fired two quick shots. "I was fired at from less than ten feet, and the bullets whizzed by me," Baker said, adding that he then drew his revolver and fired twice.

Crocker retreated behind a truck, dropped his gun, and walked out. He resisted being handcuffed and sustained a scalp cut while being subdued by the officers.

He was treated at the City Hospital and then was charged with suspicion of assault, with intent to kill and carrying a concealed weapon. Police said he has a prison record, and that he had been drinking.

Motorist Arrested

Two cars were damaged and a motorist was arrested in Venice at 11:35 a.m. Saturday as the result of an accident at Bissell and Klein streets. A car driven by Louis Casey, East St. Louis, was damaged in the left rear and one driven by Porter Payne, 1033 Market street, Venice, in the left front. Payne was booked on a charge of illegal transportation of liquor. He posted $50 cash bond, pending an Aug. 28 hearing.

Motorist Arrested

Charles E. Norman, 27, St. Louis, was arrested at 23rd street and Madison avenue at 12:05 a.m. Sunday on a charge of illegally transporting liquor in his auto.

Old Cathedral Scene of Roth-Deatherage Nuptials

The wedding of Miss Lawana Deatherage, a daughter of Mrs. Harry Deatherage, 5120 Nameoki road, and the late Harry Deatherage to Glennon F. Roth, 1803 Eton lane, St. Louis, took place in the Basilica of St. Louis, King of France (Old Cathedral), St. Louis, at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Rev. Valentine Young officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Roth, reside at St. Genevieve, Mo.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Virginia Gurley, organist, who accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Carolyn George. Vocal selections included The Lord's Prayer, "Ave Maria" and "Pans Angelicus."

The bride selected a floor-length gown of peau de soie and Alencon lace, featuring a round neckline, and Alencon lace appliques re-embroidered on the Empire bodice. Lace insets accented the Kabuki sleeves. A wide border of lace was placed at the hemline of the sheath skirt.

A Cathedral-length madonna veil of white silk illusion was edged with Alencon lace appliques. Her bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white mums, gladioli and pom poms.

Mrs. Martin John Schrader, sister of the bride, served as her matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Harry D. Deatherage, Mrs. Leslie E. Deatherage and Mrs. Fred Sinroll, all sisters-in-laws of the bride.

They were attired alike in full-length gowns of lime-colored ribbon ottoman, each designed with a sleeveless bodice and high rounded neckline. A rose satin belt accented the Empire line of each dress and there were soft French bows. Long line veils, reaching the hemline, were secured by rose satin bows.

Each carried three long-stemmed dark pink roses and ribbon clusters. Donald E. Roth attended his brother as best man, with Harry D. Deatherage and Leslie E. Deatherage, brothers of the bride, and Martin John Schrader, the bride's brother-in-law, Thomas J. Siz and William C. Ossie completing the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Mrs. Deatherage chose for her daughter's wedding a two-piece dress and jacket ensemble in petal pink and matching accessories.

The mother of the groom wore a light blue dress and short jacket with accessories in a similar shade. Both wore gladioli bloom corsages.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Knights of Columbus hall, 4331 Lindell bld., St. Louis. Mrs. Donald Wieman presided as the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Roth entertained members of the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner last week at the Holiday Inn in St. Louis.

The newlywed couple will honeymoon in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

The former Miss Deatherage is employed by an airline company in St. Louis. Mr. Roth, a graduate of the University of Missouri, is employed by Pet, Inc., St. Louis.

Candlelight Setting for Wise-Frizzell Wedding

Altar bouquets of white gladioli and greenery, together with lighted candles in candelabra, provided the setting Friday evening for the wedding of Miss Phyllis Frizzell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Frizzell, 1635 Second street, Madison, and David Wise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wise, 2707 Buxton avenue.

The service took place at Community Heights Assembly of God Church, with Rev. Jesse Lipe officiating at 7 o'clock.

Miss Brenda Kenworthy, the organist, sang "I Love You Truly," "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" and "Memento to Moments."

A gown of white Chantilly lace over peau de soie was worn by the bride. The molded bodice, with a natural waistline, had a scoop neck, scalloped and sprinkled with iridescent sequins. The traditionally long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists with covered button closing.

A very bouffant skirt flowed gently into a full cathedral train repeating the iridescent crystal trim.

A large flat bow of lace was placed at the waistline in the back, and a tear-drop forward headpiece of petal pink peau de soie was etched with seed pearls and crystals. It held in place the brides tiered veil.

She carried a tear-drop bouquet of white carnations and satin ribbon.

Miss Leslie Skelly, honor attendant, and Miss Mary Ann Downs and Miss Jennifer Brewer, bridesmaids, wore floor-length gowns of pink chiffon over peau de soie. The gowns differed only in color. The honor attendant wore light pink and the bridesmaids chose a darker shade.

The gowns were designed with square necks, short sleeves and Empire waists trimmed with miniature fabric roses. Green ribbon in streamers terminated at the hemlines of the controlled skirts, and headpieces were pearl combs and matching nose veils.

They held colonial bouquets of pink carnations and satin ribbon.

Wayne Adams was best man, serving with Mike Jacobs, Douglas McCallister, Daniel Hutchins and Phillip Frizzell, the bride's brother, groomsmen and ushers.

The bride's mother wore a powder blue dress with silver trim and a blue hat. The bridegroom's mother was in a royal blue dress. Both had corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held at the American Legion Home after the ceremony.

A graduate of Granite City high school, the bride is now attending a St. Louis business institute. Mr. Wise graduated from the Granite City schools.

He is employed in St. Louis.

Miss Deborah Wise, a sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Iva Everts were in charge of the guest register.

The bridegroom's parents gave the rehearsal dinner at their home.

The reception will be held in the church parlors from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. All friends in the Quad-City area are invited to attend, and are to come gifts.

The 'Master Molecule' Debated On Extent of Role in Heredity

(The American Chemical Society)

The history of science is filled with controversy: Whether the sun revolves around the earth or the earth around the sun, whether life evolved from pre-existing life or whether it can arise spontaneously from nonliving matter or not microscopic creatures can cause disease.

Now, in the late 1960s, a new argument is shaping up. At the time the debate is over DNA, a complex thread in the nucleus of every living cell.

At the American Chemical Society's national meeting in San Francisco, the argument became a full-blown controversy when a small but respected band of scientists challenged the Nobel Prize-winning several Nobel Prize-winning.

According to the prevailing theory, DNA is the architect of all living things. Shaped like two spiral staircases coiling around each other, the DNA thread contains, coded within it, all the information necessary to make up a complete plant or animal.

The secret of the code lies in the sequence of the units that make up the molecule. This sequence determines the form of protein in the organism so that cats produce only cats, and not mice, and humans only produce humans.

The theory says that DNA and only DNA determines heredity. DNA becomes the "master molecule" of the organism so that cats produce only cats, and not mice, and humans only produce humans.

More recently, Dr. Arthur Kornberg of Stanford University

1959 Nobelist, took on the shelf re-agents and, with the aid of an enzyme, replicated the DNA of a virus.

When the DNA was introduced into a bacterial host, it took over that organism's biochemical machinery and began turning out complete and biologically active viruses.

Dr. Kornberg also points out that a certain virus which attacks sheep has no detectable DNA, yet is able to replicate itself.

Views of Proponents Speaking for the proponents of DNA as the sole determinant of heredity, Dr. Kornberg agreed that protein can affect DNA—but not in the way that Dr. Kornberg implied.

Protein changes heredity in the same way that chemicals and radiation do, Dr. Kornberg said, by mutating, or changing genes. But protein is still not an essential carrier of genetic information.

Genetic changes caused by protein are at a level of one part per million, or less. The DNA controversy may seem like arguing how many angels can fit on the surface of a molecule.

But at stake are the "grave new" order intelligence, the elimination of diseases such as cancer and diabetes, sex determination of offspring, and the control of physical characteristics.

No Leap in Weddings Or 'Heart Balm' Cases During Leap Year

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Association)

The fact that this is Leap Year is expected to have little or no effect on the total number of brides. August now rivals June as the leading month for exchanging nuptial vows.

The reason 1968 is not expected to be an exceptional year is that very few women take advantage of the Leap Year idea of asking a man for his hand in marriage.

At one time, however, the woman who proposed to a man had the law on her side. In Scotland in 1288 a girl maiden laid the legal right to propose to bachelors during Leap Year.

The bachelor who declined was subject to a fine equal to the value of his estate, unless he could show he was already betrothed.

Similar laws were enacted by France, Genoa, Florence, the record shows.

Leap Year never has been a matter of law in this country, except that at least one community, Whitesville, Del., has an ordinance against it.

Today, courts even take a rather dim view of a woman's efforts to collect damages for the embarrassment and mental anguish caused by a man's

Council Sewer Easement Vote Proves Its Ability to Act on Behalf of the Public

The 12-1 Granite City council vote to vacate August street will enable a serious stormwater sewer right-of-way problem to be solved. A concrete channel can start, speeding the time when drainage lines are connected to it, with street excavations then restored to normal.

The "debt, delay, damage and danger" difficulties cited by this newspaper last week were real, as the public well knows—and said so to city officials. This fact, regardless of any rhetoric by or against the council, was the principal factor in their comments to make us the issue, which was a bit silly and missed the point entirely.

Councilmen deserve commendation for acting to end the impasse, which had existed all summer. The delay had reached a critical point, fully justifying their decision Thursday night.

There is no great joy in any loss of traffic access, but it is reassuring to know that the August street area is to be put to good use during the early 1970s, creating many new jobs and bolstering the tax base which supports local governmental services.

Aldermen who voted for the overall public good, avoiding a year's delay in the sewer project and intolerable conditions in East Granite and other areas, were Charles Mosier, William Dallas, Sam Whitmer, Edmund Bartoski, Clyde Boyd, Roy Poulos, Claude Green, Paul Rutledge, Gerald Parnley, R. E. Robertson, Emerald Dawes and Ford Johnson. Every one of their votes was vital, because all 12 were needed in order to proceed.

Civil Service Plan Can Improve Effectiveness of Sheriff Staff

The plan for a study on establishing merit employment and civil service safeguards for Madison county sheriff department is welcome news. Such a step is overdue.

The state legislature in its 1967 session adopted a law under which counties can place deputies under civil service. They would receive professional police training and could look forward to holding their jobs indefinitely, despite the election of a new sheriff every four years.

Since Illinois does not permit sheriffs to succeed themselves, there has been a frequent turnover in personnel. As a result, many competent people who otherwise might be interested in such work have declined to give up their present jobs.

If the plan is implemented, including procedures to assure proper and effective performance, unincorporated areas can look forward to upgraded law enforcement.

Trespassers Are Sick People But They Often Injure Women, Children

To the Editor: In regard to your well timed but completely ignorant editorial (Aug. 15, "Let's Not Shoot First and Ask Later").

It so happens that I am one of the victimized families you spoke of in your editorial and I certainly do not share your view.

This "peeping Tom" spent at least 45 minutes peering into the window of my home with my family unaware of his presence.

Several Alternatives Possible in Rejuvenating Downtown District

A number of basic strategies can be utilized to increase the share of regional growth enjoyed by the Granite City central business district, the SIU Business Research Bureau has said in outlining three main options.

The three, of course, do not exhaust the various combinations of factors that could aid local economic growth. When and if some of the progressive steps are taken, it may become apparent that certain combinations of the three options are best, or that new ideas also should be considered and implemented.

Option 1 notes that it would be possible to emphasize the present patterned development of the central business district somewhat further than at present. This would involve catering mainly to the convenience shopper—people living close to the downtown area who purchase most of their necessities in that area.

This would mean increasing the emphasis on convenience goods, such as groceries or drugs, and on convenience services, such as beauty parlors and eating and drinking places.

However, this would basically change the general business function of the central business district to that of a neighborhood shopping center. Thus, in terms of the prevailing local economic structure, it would require significant alterations in the "merchant mix" of the makeup of the present downtown district. High vacancies in the present commercial district might develop.

The resulting limited shopping center would have its base in an area of relatively low to middle socio-economic groups buying power, while substantial, is not great enough to provide for growth and development of a mature central business district. And catering primarily to the immediate neighboring residential areas would limit opportunities for development mainly to the goods and services characteristic of the low to middle groups' standard of living.

The only opportunity offered in this option is in increasing the number of the low-to-middle socio-economic people in the area. This could occur probably only through increasing the population density near the downtown area. This approach would require substantial urban renewal in the immediate area. SIU notes. The renewal plan currently under consideration here emphasizes parking and commercial development rather than housing, however.

A group of sizable apartment house complexes in the immediate vicinity of the central district, perhaps developed privately, could make living in this area attractive and could attract not only the low to middle socio-economic groups but possibly enough of a slightly higher socio-economic group to improve the economic base of the area.

While Option 1 could result in some positive programming, it accepts the basic concept that Granite City has little chance to gain in the long run from attempting to remain an independent business center. Because continued independence is vital, this option is less desirable than other possibilities, which will be discussed in later issues.

Don't Fatten Up Junior

(News-Record, Zelenople, Pa.)

A study suggests that mothers are most to blame in developing eating habits in children that lead to adult troubles.

There's the philosophy that a clean plate is a sign of virtue. The result is that a child will stuff himself to please his parent.

And there's the proud boast of some parents that "we may be poor, but one thing we do have is plenty to eat." That may tend to put food in the role of compensation for other things lacking in the home.

So while Mom strives to stay in a Size 12 dress, she should also make sure that Johnny doesn't split his britches.

World Perils—Hunger, Illness, Nuclear War, Lawless Dictators

(The Argus-Champion, Newport, N. H.)

The proposed restriction on guns will be neither the panacea for crime claimed by its most ardent advocates, nor the disaster to individual freedom feared by its most vocal opponents.

When rational men look back at our age, however, they will wonder what kind of people we were, whose nation could erupt in a convulsive argument about outlawing pistols, while we sat calmly in peace, certain about lawlessness in nuclear weapons.

They will wonder what kind of civilization we aspired to, when we could blot out the possibility that one man might kill another, but care not at all that one nation could incinerate another.

They will think us childishly ignorant, when we could make such an explosive issue out of the killing through our minds when we could become so upset about the ownership of guns, but care not at all about lawlessness among nations.

We should, of course, have sensible laws to control the use of guns, to keep them out of the hands of criminals, drug fiends, insane persons and alcoholics.

A few months ago, a fire was started through an open window in a child's bed.

You publish these accounts in your paper week after week and yet come to the defense of these sick persons who prey on society.

You say they should be "home in bed." I disagree again; they should be put away where they can be helped, because they are sick people.

Illinois in 1818—Joyful Citizens Fired a Salute, Pledged Themselves To Support the State Constitution

(From the Files of the Granite City Press-Record)

The first constitutional convention of Illinois completed its work on Aug. 28, 1818, after a session of 21 days.

It was not customary at that time to submit constitutions to a vote of the people, and no suggestion of such a procedure was made.

At the whole, however, the people probably were satisfied with the work of the convention, and the inhabitants of Kaskaskia indicated their approval by a celebration.

The Kaskaskia Intelligencer, in its issue of Sept. 2, 1818, described the popular celebration of the drafting of the constitution as follows:

"On Wednesday last, the constitution for the State of Illinois was signed, and the convention adjourned. The citizens of the town assembled to fire a federal salute to perpetuate the remembrance of the day when our constitution was signed and sealed.

"As many of the independent company of the town as were requisite to man the field piece appeared at the capitol, in uniform, with their colors flying (being the flag of the Union as adopted by the last act of Congress), accompanied by the principal militia officers.

"Upon the signing of the constitution, and the convention being about to adjourn, they were invited by the committee of arrangements to join in the celebration of the day.

"The field piece was placed in front of the capitol, the military officers a few paces to its rear. The governor, secretary, delegate to Congress and most of the territorial officers, accompanied the members of the convention, took their positions nearby.

"The salute was commenced—20 rounds were fired, and one for the new state of Illinois, which was accompanied by the following: The pledge from the independent corps.

"Under these colors, we pledge ourselves to support the constitution of Illinois."

"This was truly a proud day for the citizens of Illinois—a day on which the property and hopes of thousands yet to follow—a day which will long be remembered and spoken of with enthusiastic pride.

"As a day connected with the permanent prosperity of our literary, political and religious institutions—as the main pillar in the edifice of our state independence, and to justify the basis of our future greatness.

"The united exertions of our representatives have furnished us with a wise and republican constitution—distributed to all classes their just rights.

"It now behooves us as faithful citizens to protect it from encroachment."

"And in the language of the immortal Washington, to cherish a cordial and immovable attachment to it—accompanied by a sacred and inviolable regard to our political safety and prosperity—watching for its preservation with jealous anxiety—dissuading whatever may suggest even a suspicion that it can in any event be abandoned."

Offensive Mail Can Be Stopped By Contacting the Post Office

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

A person who receives pandering advertisements in the mail can have his name removed from the sender's mailing list by complaining to the Post Office.

A new federal statute gives each family the right to decide that the clutter of advertisements in the mail is "sexually arousing or sexually provocative" and file a complaint with the Post Office.

There is also a provision to list names of children who are under 18 years and who reside at home, so that offending mail can be directed to them.

The Post Office, upon receipt of the complaint, will notify the sender not to direct any more mail to the complainant and to withdraw it from the mailing list.

Individuals who continue to receive offensive advertisements after the initial complaint should report this to the Post Office. Postal inspectors will issue a warning and, if that is unheeded, legal action may be taken.

Each year, the Post Office Department received over 140,000 complaints protesting the receipt of pandering advertisements.

However, it was difficult to take corrective action since the material was not legally obscene.

The new law lets recipients decide the obscenity question as it applies to their mail. The Post Office has published a pamphlet (POD 123) called "How You Can Curb Pandering Advertisements," which explains the new law and includes a copy of the complaint form.

The pamphlet is available at local post offices. A copy of the form appears below.

"(Print or type name), recipient of the enclosed mailing from (print name, address, city, state, ZIP code) consider this mailing to be a pandering advertisement which offers for sale erotically arousing or sexually provocative matter."

"Accordingly, under the provisions of Title 39, United States Code, § 4008, I request that the above-named mailer, and his (his) agents or assigns, be directed to refrain from making any further mailings to me (as well as to my below-listed minor children residing with me who have not attained their nineteenth birthday)."

Armenian Church Marks Holidays

The Assumption of the Virgin Mary, one of the five major religious holidays of the Armenian Apostolic Church, and the blessing of the grapes were jointly celebrated at St. Gregory Armenian Apostolic Church here Sunday.

The belief is that the Virgin Mary was bodily lifted up to heaven after her death, and that all the Apostles but St. Thomas witnessed her death. The Apostles believed that the body was taken to heaven. This interpretation was adopted by all Christian churches at the Council of Chalcedon, 451 A.D. In the Armenian Church, the official date falls on the 15th, but it is always celebrated on the nearest Sunday.

The blessing of the grapes, an ancient custom honoring a pagan deity, was deemed too popular to be ignored and was incorporated into the Christian festivity of the Assumption. It was traditionally made of red grapes until they were blessed on Assumption Day.

The Rev. Movses Shrikian celebrated the mass and liturgy, assisted by Arch-Deacons Asadour Bedian and Vahan Haranian. Mrs. J. J. Haranian conducted the choir of the St. Gregory Church.

St. Gregory the Illuminator Church is a member of the Armenian Apostolic Church of America, the diocese which is affiliated with the Holy See of Cilicia, Beirut, Lebanon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelahan, 3228 Newell drive, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Kirkpatrick, 111 Michigan avenue, St. Louis.

The former Miss Kelahan selected a street-length white dress in an A-line style. The bodice of lace featured a delicate scalloped neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves in matching lace.

Her shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion was secured by a forward bow and pinned in similar fabric. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of miniature mums and orchids, with long white satin streamers.

Mayor Lee Apologizes For 'Messy' Job

Mayor John E. Lee extended a public apology to residents of North Village during a regular city council meeting Friday night because of what the mayor described as a "messy job" of oiling and chipping streets in the area.

The mayor said the job was let by contract and that the contractor either "put down too much asphalt or not enough rock." He said some of the North Village streets were oiled in puddles of oil that was being carried on auto tires into unlined streets to such extent that "they look like they have been oiled, too."

Jay Maurer, Venice street superintendent, said the contractor explained the situation was due to high humidity when the asphalt was applied. Mayor Lee said he feels the contractor should have scheduled the work at a different time.

Appraisals Needed Due to Infrequent Sales of Many Kinds of Property

(Last of four articles by Dr. Leo Cohen of the SIU-SW Public Administration and Metropolitan Affairs Program on "Property tax equity and tax reform in Illinois - a Madison county case study.")

The rising problem of urban and metropolitan areas have created increased demands for public services. This pressure to increase state and federal aid to local governmental units, especially for education.

It is also clear that the Illinois revenue-producing structure must also change to provide the additional state and local services demanded by its citizens.

Nevertheless, it also seems logical that the property tax will remain as an important source of revenue to local government. In this context, a number of changes are suggested as a possible means of improving equity and the administration of the property tax in Madison county and the state of Illinois.

1. Appointment of county assessors and based on state certification. All local assessment districts should be no smaller than the county. Permissive legislation should also be passed to encourage the merging of the assessment function by any two or more of the smaller counties.

The salary of the county assessor and the resources allocated to the function must be sufficient to attract highly qualified persons and permit them to administer the tax equitably and efficiently.

It is estimated that the state to pay at least one-half of the total costs of assessment.

Although the appointment should probably be made by the County Board of Supervisors, the Illinois Department of Revenue should test and certify the candidates eligible for the position.

1. b. Mandatory appointment of the county supervisor of assessments. (Alternative to 1a.)

The abolishment of township assessors and substituting county centralization of assessments are preferred, but an acceptable alternative is legislation requiring the appointment of a County Supervisor of Assessments in each county.

This person should also be certified by the state but with much greater authority than now granted by the existing legislation.

He should have the authority to supervise the townships (also preferably appointed), revise their assessments, and equalize between townships.

2. Appraisals to supplement assessment-sales ratio data. Since the statistical data herein suggest that certain classes of property, such as industrial and commercial, are transferred infrequently, the Department of Revenue should be encouraged if not required to utilize the appraisal technique in determining the sales ratio.

There are a list of other reasons for using the taxpayer data only as an original source. He still makes the assessment.

All real and personal property owners in Illinois list annually their properties and values with the appropriate assessors. There are other reasons for amending the Illinois law. The assessor is typically confronted with difficult technical problems in assessing the real and personal property of the large industrial or commercial firm.

Experience also indicates that valuation statistics provided by taxpayers are generally quite accurate and thus assist assessors.

Personal Tax Inefficiency. Furthermore, any construction of the personal property assessment procedure in Madison county and Illinois suggests the essence of inefficiency.

There is no basic attempt to assess or even list anything but automobiles, but merely a compliance with the law to "call at the office, place of doing business or residence of each taxpayer."

The assessor afforded the opportunity of obtaining personal property assessments either by mail and/or personal visit.

The current procedure for assessing personal property provides low productivity. Little is now accomplished except creating part-time employment for deputy assessors.

If such resources were more fully utilized in the assessing of real property, increased efficiency might occur.

Thus, it is recommended that the law be changed to permit the assessor to obtain pertinent information by mail and/or visitation.

Urban Fringe Area. The data in this study for Madison county supports the nationwide tendency of under-assessing farmland and especially in the urban fringe area.

In administering the property tax, this results in unfair treatment of owners of buildings or improvements relative to land or vacant lots.

Some proponents of increased open space and recreational areas argue that these inequities, at least, tend to maintain the status quo for longer periods of time.

This latter proposition may be valid but is contrary to the basic principles of the ad valorem property tax. More specifically, the uniformity provisions of the law, including the Constitution, should either be amended or enforced.

Land or any property should be assessed on its best economic use, given its legal constraints.

If farming is the present use of a parcel of land and much of the surrounding area is being utilized as residential, commercial or industrial purposes, the parcel should also be assessed at its higher economic potential.

Non-Legal Subsidy. This action may cause the farmer to quit farming. If the land is not assessed or reassessed at this higher level, however, then a non-legal subsidy is created.

Several states, including Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Florida, Indiana, Iowa, and Minnesota, have legally established

Loss Listed by Laclede Due to New Equipment

Laclede Steel Co. had a net operating loss during the first half of this year of $553,352 or $2.70 a share, compared to net earnings in the same period last year of $1,185,979 or $5.75 a share, it was announced late last week.

President Paul B. Akin said the loss resulted from buying semi-finished steel to serve the firm's customers. Introduction of new steelmaking equipment caused a series of production problems, necessitating purchase of the steel. No purchases are planned in the fourth quarter, but there have been some in this quarter.

First-half sales this year totaled $44,215,286, compared to $41,910,287 last year.

Also contributing to the loss was the release from a long-term raw material contract amounting to $140,525, or 39 cents a share. This made the total net loss $697,157 or $3.29 a share.

Motion to Dismiss Election Suit Filed

A motion to dismiss an election contest filed by Louis Whitsett against Arnold Rutherford was entered in Madison county circuit court Friday.

Whitsett contends that he had actually defeated Rutherford for election as Democratic committeeman from Namekuj township Precinct Six.

The dismissal motion argues that the office of precinct committeeman is not a public office and that the election is not contestable under the state election code.

It also states that the petition to contest was filed later than five days after the completion of the canvass of returns and so was not "timely filed."
